First Big Detachment to Go from This Navy Yard to Southern Detention Camp.

The first big detachment of court martial men to be sent from this navy yard to the detention camp at Port Royal left here this afternoon for the southern station. The detachment included thirty men from the prison ships Southern and Topeka. The marine corps recently established this camp on the recommendation of a board of officers. The men of the service who are serving time for minor offenses will be sent there and detailed for drill and other work. Should they show any inclination to better themselves while completing sentence at this camp, they will be restored to duty with a clean card.

SEEKS ABATEMENT OF TAXES FROM SUPERIOR COURT

Judge Calvin Page Wants to Find Out Exact Power of Portsmouth Assessors

Judge Calvin Page today petitioned the superior court, asking it to cause the city of Portsmouth to abate certain taxes which the board of assessors, he claims, has unlawfully imposed. He appeared at city hall early today and filed a copy of the petition with City Clerk Guy E. Corey. The case will be heard as soon as possible after the October term opens in this city.

The amount involved is understood to be a personal matter. The board of assessors would have little or nothing to say today relative to the petition of Judge Page, any more than to state they are ready to defend their act when the case is called next month.

WITH THE POLICE

Two Houses Raided for Liquor, But None Found

There were eight drunks and two lodgers on the police blotter last night. The police during the evening raided the houses of Charles Assay on Jefferson street and Charles Morse on Market street, but failed to find any evidence of sale of liquor.

KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Car Skidded and Turned Turtle at Newbury--George Russell of This City Killed and Chaffeur Injured.

George Russell, who resides at 62 Water street this city, was killed and Frank Low of Boston, an automobile driver, was badly injured on Friday afternoon, when a machine driven by Russell turned turtle at Newbury, just outside of Newburyport.

Russell this week purchased a Chalmers-Detroit car in Boston and in company with Frank Low, who was teaching him how to run it, ran to this city on Thursday, Friday morning Russell stitted to take Low back to Boston at the same time getting more lessons on the way. They made the trip all right to Newburyport, and then Russell took the driver's seat and apparently was getting along finely, although the roads were very muddy until they came to Newbury. In turning a sharp corner, at what is known as Gravel Hill, the car began to skid and before he could get control, it struck a telephone pole and turned turtle, plunging both men under the car. Low was thrown underneath so that Russell was across his chest when found and he was unconscious, with a bad wound over his left eye. The car was turned off the men by a crowd of men who witnessed the accident and both taken to the hospital in Newburyport, but Russell was dead before they reached that place. Low was not very badly injured and he will be able to go home today. Low in talking of the accident stated that it happened so suddenly that he did not have time to act, and when he came to he found Russell across his chest under the car, and he thinks that he was suffocated. Russell's home is in Providence, but he has been living in this city for the past four years. The automobile was not badly damaged other than the top, which was wrecked.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK TO OPEN HERE SHORTLY

Location of Sub-Station Not Settled, But Creek Is Generally Favored

A United States depository, on Postal Savings bank, will shortly be opened in this city following the recent directions of the postoffice department.

Postmaster Conner today informed the Herald that he expected the local office would be ready for business on or about Sept. 23. Regarding a sub-station, many of the storekeepers in the business section of the city have made application for the same, but the department has notified them that this station cannot be established near the local postoffice.

At present it is not known just where the sub-station will be located, but the Creek district, which comprises the manufacturing section of the city, is favored.

RAIN PREVENTS CONCORD GAME

The weather man caused lots of disappointment in this city as well as Concord today when he let loose too much moisture, which prevented the big game between the P. A. C. and the Haymakers, champions of the Sunset League at Concord. The special train to be run at the expense of $170 from this city to Concord, leaving at 12:40 p. m., was called off shortly after 11 o'clock, on the receipt of a message from the management of the up state team. Hundreds of fans from this city were to make the trip and do a nice little stunt on the rosters' section. The teams are bound to meet, however and will likely play at Concord on Saturday next. Meanwhile Portsmouth's crack team will do some evening practice and be ready for all that the Haymakers can hand out to them when they clash on the diamond.

Manchester Youth Makes His Escape from the Hospital at the State Prison

William Henry Harrison Alexander of Manchester, the most notorious firebug that ever handled a match in the state, escaped Friday night at 6 o'clock from the state hospital at Concord. He got away when no one was looking, and nobody knows just how, but he took to the woods in fast time and has not been seen or heard of. The escape was discovered an hour later and the authorities of all cities and large towns are on the lookout.

BIG FIGHT DRAWING TO CLOSE

Politicians Give Repeal a Victory in Maine Election---Struggle for Kennebec County.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 9.—In central Maine some of the most skillful politicians in both parties are pitted against each other in this campaign on constitutional prohibition. Kennebec county especially is the scene of adroit political maneuvering and here the contest for the majority of the votes is being directed by master hands.

Ex-Congressman Edwin C. Burlingame, a veteran of many campaigns, is exerting himself to prevent prohibition being erased from the constitution with as much determination as if the future of the republican party in the old 2d congressional district were at stake.

In fact, the ex-congressman, who, by the way, hopes to be returned to his seat in congress in 1912, of a republican legislature does not insist upon taking his measure for the senatorial term, is endeavoring to make the retention of the prohibitory amendment a party measure.

It cannot be asserted that the instructions have proceeded from Mr. Burlingame, but men who have long been in his confidence for some days have been arguing up and down the country-side that the constitutional amendment must not be repealed, for to rescind it would be to contribute to a democratic victory.

It has been presented "forcibly" to the republicans of the towns of Kennebec county that the repeal of the prohibitory amendment has been for years a democratic measure, and to vote to lift it from the organic law of the state is to lend aid and comfort to the enemy, the party at present in power. Republicans are being advised, therefore, to vote "no" at the special election next Monday that the democrats may not be entrenched by the indorsement of their policy of constitutional tinkering.

So widely and so persistently is this reasoning being disseminated in the country towns where the republican vote is large and has been prior to last September intensely loyal, that the managers of the campaign for the repeal are in doubt as to what broads may be thus made in the ranks of their promised republican support.

Close in Kennebec. While the campaign for the retention of the prohibitory law was being carried on principally by public meetings, the repeal forces felt sure of carrying Kennebec county, but the crossroads and country store canvassing that has been adopted by the members of the old republican county organization within the past few days has given the situation a different aspect.

Kennebec county, a few days ago counted as a sure "yes" county, is now admitted to be close probably. Mr. Burlingame and M. S. Holway are taking care of the republicans, while Thomas C. Ingraham, an Augusta business man and a democrat of recognized influence, is the directing force of the nonpartisan spirit of the Kennebec county campaign.

Between the two the prohibition forces count on swinging Kennebec against repeal.

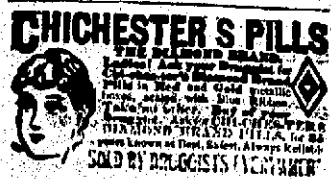

Scattered through the county is a corps of workers for repeal and they are receiving suggestions from both democrats and republicans.

In Kennebec county the claim is made by those conversant with the results of the canvass made in the interests of repeal that the county will be "wet" by at least 500, that majority being furnished principally by Augusta and Waterville. The prohibitionists assert that the county will vote to sustain the constitution and that Waterville will be the only "wet" spot in Kennebec county.

Drummers See Repeal Victory.

At the same time commercial travelers who have been arriving in Augusta after trips through the state and especially in the country towns declare that the sentiment on this issue has undergone a great change in two weeks.

The drummers, repeating what they have gathered from country storekeepers and on the trains, insist almost to a man that prohibition is to be stricken from the constitution by the vote of next Monday.

An Estimate for State.

An estimate of the majority in each county has been compiled by one of the shrewdest politicians in the state, who has toured four counties during the past two weeks and has received reports from others.

The "yes" table indicates the estimated majority of the county for repeal and the "no" side stands for the majority of the county computed as for the retention of constitutional prohibition. Here are his figures:

County	"Yes" majority	"No" majority
Washington	400
Hancock	400
Penobscot	2,500
Aroostook		1,500
Piscataquis		500
Waldo	300
Somerset		500
Kennebec	500
Franklin		300
Androscoggin	2,500
Sagadahoc	500
Lincoln		300
Knox	1,000
York		500
Cumberland	2,000
Oxford		1,200
Totals	10,100	4,800
Estimated net majority for repeal	5,300

COL ASTOR IS MARRIED

New York, Sept. 8.—A report gained circulation today that Col. John Jacob Astor and Miss Madeline Talmage Force were married, either late yesterday afternoon or about noon today, at the residence of G. B. Jover, a friend of the Force family, at Fairfield, Conn. It was also reported that Col. Astor's yacht, which has been taking on coal and supplies off the foot of 51st street, North river, was under orders to sail for Bermuda this evening with the bridal party aboard.

Arrangements for the wedding if it is held, were made by Mr. Astor's private secretary, Mr. Dobbins, who started from New York yesterday morning, ostensibly for Rhodebeck, where the colonel's country estate is located. Mr. Dobbins is said to have left the train at some point up the road and taken a motor car for Fairfield, Conn.

The name of the clergyman who is said to have performed the ceremony was not included in the rumor. It was stated, however, that the Rev. Mr. Saunders of Rhodebeck, the pastor of Col. Astor's church, had played some part in procuring a minister, although he took no part in the actual ceremony himself.

Dr. Saunders, over the telephone positively denied that he had anything to do with the marriage if it took place. He expressed a doubt as to that.

No confirmation or denial of the report could be secured at the Force home, 18 East 37th street.

A Trying Moment.

What is the most trying position in which an actress was ever put on the stage? Mrs. E. W. Ward in her "Reminiscences" tells of a predicament of Mme. Vestris, while playing the principal role in an opera, which will take some beating. "Owing to the violence of her acting Mme. Vestris' false teeth suddenly became loose. With sly movements of her tapering fingers the famous singer endeavored to coax them back; but, finding it was of no avail and perceiving there was no other alternative, she suddenly turned her back on the audience, and, taking the plate right out of her mouth, carefully readjusted it. Then she finished her song."

WASTED BARRELS OF LIQUOR FOR REVENGE

Because he had been refused liquor and ordered from the place, Charles H. Barrett, it is alleged, entered the wholesale liquor store of Joseph Masse at 16 Concord street, Manchester, sometime between 11 and 12 o'clock Thursday night, and opening the faucets of thirty-one barrels of liquor flooded the place ankle deep and caused a loss to the owner which it is estimated will amount to $2,000.

The break was discovered by Patrolman Jennings, who, while standing at the corner of Elm and Concord streets, noticed a strong smell of liquor and following it up found that it was running from under the door of the store, and flashing his light through the glass of the door saw that the floor was flooded.

The officer hastened to the room of Henri Masse, an employee, and brother of the proprietor, who rooms in the Ciley block, in which the store is situated. Mr. Masse, hastily slipping on some clothing, returned to the store with the officer and on opening the door found the floor ankle deep in liquor which was flowing from the open faucets.

Barrett was arrested at his home and evidence enough found to cause his arrest. It is claimed that he broke into the saloon and after turning the faucets, he took three bottles home.

NOT SALTS, OIL OR PILLS, BUT CASCARETS

No Odds How Sick Your Stomach, How Hard Your Head Aches or How Bilious—Cascarets Make You Feel Great

You men and women who somehow can't get feeling right—who have an almost daily headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never ripen or sicken.

FIREBUG GAINS FREEDOM

Alexander is a boy of about 19 years. He was sentenced to the industrial school in the North End at Manchester but the last session of the county court gave him a trial for incendiarism and ordered him to the insane asylum for observation.

Among the fires that this lad set were three in the Milford hotel in the South End, Manchester, where he was employed as a bell hop. Another was in a grain stable. In court he said the fires had no particular fascination for him, but he liked to see the apparatus turn out. After he set a fire he ran to the central station at Vine street and jumped up and down with glee as the trucks and engines and hose carts swung around the corners.

The hospital authorities say that after concealing a heavy window weight beneath his grey sweater Alexander snaked into an empty room while the patients were coming from supper and smashed the cage iron grating out of the window of the room with his improvised weapon. Slipping easily out of the opening, he was soon out of sight in the gloom and dusk of the early evening. The escape was accomplished with such neatness and dispatch that the attendants at the hospital were unable to catch more than a glimpse of the youth as he made his way in a northerly direction from the institution.

Young Alexander is about 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weighs about 120 pounds. He is light complexioned, has brown hair and blue eyes with a smooth face. When he left the institution shortly after 6 o'clock last night he had on sneakers, checked trousers and a grey sweater and was bareheaded.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Wrestling fans here still continue to talk of the poor showing of George Hackenschmidt in his bout with Frank Gotch on Labor day. In fact, there are a few whispers around—a very few—to the effect that the whole thing was a frame. To any one who had good eyesight it was nothing of the kind. If Hackenschmidt had gone into the ring bent upon cheating he could not have performed much more poorly than he did. In the recent bout Hack's wrestling was not the only thing that disappointed the crowd. In appearance he certainly is not the Hackenschmidt of a couple of years ago. Mat fans remember seeing photographs of him which portrayed him as a very muscular, well-proportioned man. He looked like a Sandow, whereas when he entered the ring with Gotch he looked like Ernest Roeber, and his looks suggest that the "Russian Lion" is considerably past his heyday. He has been known and dreaded for years in all the wrestling centers of the world. Now he will be a mark for the challenges of all the ponderous Poles and tempestuous Turks who have to do with the hammerlock game. Gotch is not the Hackenschmidt of Labor day than he ever had before in his life and a better athlete in the truest sense of the word. Picture No. 1 shows Gotch trying for waist lock; No. 2, Hack and Gotch looked; No. 3, Gotch after he won first fall.

AT HAMPTON BEACH

Movement Afoot to Secure Better Harbor Facilities

In the course of the last summer there has been considerable agitation among motor boat owners regarding conditions in Hampton river, the prevalence of rocks and other obstructions in the harbor making cruising in that vicinity very hazardous. Except at flood tide one, unless skilled in his knowledge of the channel, is more than apt to batter his craft upon some of the many rocks and ledges which protrude almost to the surface of the water.

For some time these conditions have been discussed, although no steps have been taken to remedy them; but now boat owners are in earnest and emphatically state that something must be done to improve matters before the opening of another season. There is talk of securing the cooperation of motor boat owners, who number over a hundred, and others interested to secure means by which all these dangerous places may be properly marked, making navigation easier and less dangerous.

WILL BE FINEST STREET IN THE STATE

Richards Avenue When Paving Job is Finished Will be Something to be Proud of.

The paving job on Richards avenue, is far enough along to make the resident and property owners along the avenue confident that they will have one of the finest streets in the state. The paving brick is all finished from Parrott avenue to Lincoln avenue and the paving is being laid at this end of the avenue at a rapid rate so that the entire job should be finished by a week from today at the latest. There is very little concrete to lay and this is being done very rapidly. The brick paving goes along very fast and once laid, the rolling and grading, that is filling the intersections with cement is a small matter.

The laying of the pavements is attracting a great many spectators and it is interesting work. One man does the laying and yesterday afternoon six laborers could not pass brick fast enough for him. He was laying at the rate of 16,000 a day and considering the fact that each of the paving bricks weighed about ten pounds, he carries some weight in the course of the day's work. There is one man on the job who claims a record of 30,000 a day.

The pavement after being laid grouted and sanded, is closed to travel for at least ten days to allow the cement to harden and it is then thrown open to travel. Similar streets have worn for twenty-five years.

TO BE ELECTROCUTED

Judge Watson announced it is necessary to state what the degree of guilt was. Under the Virginia law, every murder is presumed to be murder in the second degree unless otherwise specified, and it is incumbent upon the defense to reduce it to manslaughter.

The prisoner stood rigidly in the chair as he heard the verdict his face flushed, and his cheeks twitched nervously. When he heard the conviction he sank into his chair and buried his head in his hands. For several minutes he did not speak and his father beside him also covered his face with his hands.

The foreman's announcement rang out in the quiet court room, and the other eleven jurymen simultaneously shouted "guilty." The penalty is electrocution.

Judge Watson sentenced Beattie to be electrocuted at Richmond on Nov. 24.

Asked if he had anything to say why he should not be sentenced, the prisoner replied: "I have nothing to say." To a friend, Beattie said: "I have not lost yet."

Frank P. Plummer, one of the best known business men of Dover, suddenly Thursday night at his summer home in Rollinsford, aged 58 years. Mr. Plummer had been ailing for a long time, but his condition was not regarded as serious. Only Thursday he took a pleasure trip to Portsmouth in his automobile.

He was born in Newington, and was the son of Allen and Jane J. (Pendegast) Plummer. For more than thirty years Mr. Plummer was engaged in the jewelry business, and also carried on a pawnbroker business in the rear of his store.

Besides the widow he leaves one brother, Daniel E. Plummer of Lee.

HUMOROUS QUIPS

Newfangled Schools.

They taught him how to smother, and they taught him how to slug. And how to make a basket out of various sized string.
And how to fold a paper so he wouldn't hurt his thumb.
They taught a lot to Bertie, but he couldn't do a sum.

They taught him how to mold the head of Hercules in clay.
And how to tell the difference 'twixt the bluebird and the jay.
And how to sketch a horse in a little picture frame.
But strangely they forgot to teach him how to spell his name.

Now, Bertie's pa was cranky, and he went one day to find
What 'twas they did that made his son so backward in the mind.
"I don't want Bertie wrecked!" he cried, his temper far from cool.
"I want him educated!" So he took him out of school.

Always the Way.

Tommy had been invited to dine at a learned professor's house, and his mother was anxious for his good behavior at table. She gave him elaborate instructions.

"Well, Tommy, how did you get on?" she asked on his return. "You are quite sure you didn't do anything impolite?"

"Well, no, ma—at least nothing to speak of."
The mother's anxiety was aroused. "Ah, then, there was something wrong. Now, tell me all about it, Tommy."

"Oh, it wasn't much. You see, I was trying to cut my meat when it slipped off the plate on to the floor."

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Hugh Jennings of Tigers Hard Working Manager.

Harmony has done wonders for the Detroit Tigers. Last year, when there were three or four players at loggerheads, the team's strength suffered. Jennings recognized the trouble, and he put in much of his time last winter in an effort to smooth matters over. He succeeded last spring, and the result is that Detroit is playing better ball than ever.

There are no doubt many men in baseball as well versed in the game as Jennings, but when it comes to putting life into a team and keeping it on edge, Jennings has no equal. There is no more hard working manager than Jennings. His efforts on the coaching lines are most strenuous, and much is accomplished by him in this way which does not appear on the surface.

With Jennings coaching, it is next to impossible for any player not to put forth his very best efforts at all times.

When Young Backstop Forgot.

"Young catchers are great stuff," says Frank Smith, now with Cincinnati. "The more I see of them the more I wish that the laws permitted the hunting of them in season, same as partridges or snipe. Over in Boston they assigned a kid catcher to backstop me."

"Pretty soon there was a runner on first, and this boy signaled me for three successive pitehouts. I sent three wild ones, the runner never moving, and then settled myself to get them over when that kid signaled for a fourth pitehout. I walked over to him. 'Kid, said I, 'you are signaling for a base on balls. Lost your nerve or lost your memory? The boy had lost all track of the number of balls I had thrown to him.'"

Sells Ball Player For Stamp.

Conno Mack in his walks around the baseball bargain counter never stacked up against anything like this:

Canonsburg, in the Allegheny and Washington (Pa.) league, has released to Washington Third Basemen "Scoops" Baedler, for a stamped envelope. President W. B. McVicker has approved the deal, and Baedler, who isn't a "Lefty," Russell or Marty O'Toole or a Marquard, has the distinction nevertheless of holding a record for a sale. Canonsburg kicked on Baedler and said he loafed and threw games. McVicker said it was a harsh charge to make and advised that the player be sent elsewhere. Canonsburg's management to show its contempt accepted a stamped envelope in payment.

Australia Mecca For Pugilists.

Australia will be the Mecca of the pugilistic heavyweights during the fall, winter and spring. After considerable engineering and an expenditure of time and money Hugh McIntosh has succeeded in making contracts with the big men of the fistie arena that will give the subcontinent almost a glut of battles between burles. McIntosh left London a short time ago for Sydney to make preparations for the greatest season he has ever had, and he carried away with him contracts signed by Jack Johnson, Sam McVey, Bill Lang, Marcel Moreau, the Frenchman, and others, all of whom have placed themselves unreservedly in the hands of McIntosh to fight or play, according to his dictates.

Tax Ramsdell's Athletic Feet.

"Tex" Ramsdell, the University of Pennsylvania sprinter, who has finished his college career, recently returned from his trip to Europe. Ramsdell says he is the only man who has ever won the English 100 and 220 yard dashes twice, and only one other man ever won the double event at all, he being Bobby Kerr of Canada, who won both dashes in 1908. Ramsdell won in 1910 and again this year.

BITS OF SPORT

The tennis tournament for boys is being played at the play grounds courts and there are twenty-six entries and the following games have been played in the first round. Poul defeated Thomas 8-6, 9-11, 7-5. Simpson defeated Sussman, 6-1, 6-3. Holland defeated McWilliams, 6-3, 5-7, 6-0. Rutledge defeated Campbell, 7-5, 7-5. Dow defeated Gray, 6-2, 6-4.

In the girls singles Miss Edith Gibson defeated Hazel Somerville in the finals in three straight sets.

Dr. S. T. Ladd won the Shillaber cup at the Country Club this past week, when he defeated Jack Robertson in the finals. He takes possession of the cup for a year.

The fans are hoping for good weather for the first game between the P. A. C. and the Haymakers of Concord. The special train will leave here at 12.40 and it is expected that at least a hundred fans will accompany the team.

The sailors from the U. S. S. Tennessee started the football season on Friday when they began practice at the play grounds. They are a husky looking lot and should be able to travel some.

The High school team will start next week on their football practice. The candidates for the team will be called together either Monday or Tuesday and active practice started at once as their schedule starts the latter part of this month.

The real game of base ball of the season for the P. A. C. will not be today when they play the Haymaker at Concord, but will be played at the annual outing on Monday at Newington between the married and single men. It is whispered that Bill Newell has something up his sleeve for the married men and expects to produce a team that will restate the single men once more to a good standing in the club.

The Boston Americans are having an awful slump at the end of the season and they have not been in the running against the leaders. It may be possible that their dislike for the Tigers may have something to do with the poor showing they made against the Athletics.

The non-appearance of Percy Gilford of Manchester, last year's state golf champion, was a disappointment to the followers of the game. Young Gilford is a rattling good golfer and a hard man to beat. No explanation has been offered for his absence, other than the fact that at the open tournament held at Rochester a week before the state championship he failed to make much of a showing. As a matter of fact he clearly outranks anybody in the state as a golfer other than C. W. Bass of this city.

Worked Both Ends.
Queens at their best are but women. Said Mary of Modena once in her days of exile, "It took all the jewels that all the goldsmiths could procure to decorate my crown." She was "powdered" with gems, which Fountain-hall says "made her shine like an angel."

And Queen Caroline, too, the wife of George II., used to allude to Lord Hervey's rather personal remark that her crowning dress "was as fine as the accumulated riches of the city and suburbs could make it, for, besides her own jewels, she had on her head and shoulders all the pearls she could borrow of the ladies of quality at one end of the town, and on her petticoat all the diamonds she could hire of the jewelers at the other."

How "Abide With Me" Was Written.
At the age of fifty-four Lyte found himself doomed to die of consumption, and in sorrow at having to leave his task unfinished he prayed that at the least it might be granted to him to write something which would live to the glory of God when he was dead. Then, on the last evening he ever spent at Brixham, after preaching his farewell sermon, he took pen and as the sun was setting over the ships that lay in the harbor "Abide With Me" was written. Next morning he started for the Riviera and there died a month later.—London Telegraph.

JOHN T. NIXON DEAD

The many friends in Portsmouth of John T. Nixon, city solicitor of Manchester, will learn with regret of his death, which occurred at a hospital in that city Friday night. Mr.
Nixon had been at the hospital almost a full week. While Mr. Nixon's case had been serious at all periods, and at one time in the week his condition had been considered critical,
it had been hoped that careful nursing would bring him to his feet. The encouraging reports which had been given out had not prepared his friends for the collapse which came last evening. The cause of death was a shock, the second which he had had within a comparatively short time.

Mr. Nixon was stricken on Saturday last while at his home, 335 Lake avenue. He was preparing to go to his office and was overcome. A physician was at once summoned and ordered the removal of the patient to a hospital.

The serious illness was an outcome probably of a warping which he had had for the last month or so.
This had given him considerable worry. Early in the summer he was taken with an excruciating pain in the base of the brain, but being subject to headaches he thought but little of it. While unfit for his duties, because of this, he attended a lengthy meeting of the mayor and aldermen to render a decision requested of him
on an important matter.

The following day he was at his office, but suffered from the pain. He sold a newspaper man then that he could not understand the persistence of the pain as he had done all he could to relieve it. He was then obliged to give up work and was under the care of the doctor. For several days he was ill. During this time he underwent a minor operation which gave temporary relief. The cure was not there, however. He gave up his duties for rest and quiet to restore his health. He took a vacation at his mother's home in Brentwood and being refreshed thereby came back to Manchester to resume his duties, but was stricken the second time on Saturday last. His age was 41 years and he was unmarried.

City Solicitor John T. Nixon was born in Pembroke, May 25, 1870, the son of George and Margaret Nixon.
After attending the public schools in Pembroke until he was 17 he secured a position as keeper in the jail at the Rockingham county farm at Brentwood, where he remained seven years.

Leaving Brentwood, Mr. Nixon came to Manchester and took a course of study in Bryant and Stratton Business college, and finally became a member of the police department. While a policeman he studied law afternoons, entering the office Perkins and Briggs in 1899. In 1903 he entered the law department of the George Washington university in Washington, D. C., from which he was graduated with honors three years later. A year earlier, however, before he was graduated from the university, he passed the New Hampshire bar successfully. He was decoy to the office of city solicitor of Manchester, in January, 1909, and received a unanimous vote.

Mr. Nixon was a good example of what a young man may do who has the energy and pluck to educate himself. When he was night policeman in Manchester he was constantly on the alert to get good books, and he obtained for himself a course of reading that was a great benefit. He was in more ways than one a self-made man.

USED LIQUID BAIT

In Consequence Somersworth Man
Didn't Get to Fishing Grounds

Thomas Stanton of Somersworth, and down over the line yesterday
to try his hand at salt water fishing.
He was well equipped with hooks and line, but connected with the wrong kind of bait. Thomas didn't even know of a line from the dock. He got anchored at the North end, where he told his experience at fresh water fishing in the Salmon Falls river and where the fanny ones fairly floated right to him. It was dark when he was ready to hook up a few pollock from the Piscataqua and though there is a lot of what room in that district, he could not seem to get to the fishing grounds.

At 12:20 this morning, Officer
Smith held him up with his fishing kit in a basket. It included lines strong and big enough to hold a battleship. The bait was in liquid form and included three pints of brickyard whiskey.

NAVY YARD

Major Leonard at Yard

Major Henry Leonard, U. S. M. C., who was recently transferred from command of the naval prison to the Philadelphia barracks, is passing a few days at the yard on business.

Will Arrive in New York Tomorrow

The Chinese cruiser, Hal Chai (Rear Admiral Ching Pih Kwang in command), will arrive at New York on Sept. 10. Plans are being prepared at the navy department for the reception of the Chinese officers and an American officer will be detailed as aid to the Chinese rear admiral.

Delightful Dancing Party

A merry dancing party was given by the yard officers to the ship officers and ladies at the yard armory on Friday night. A special boat was run to and from this city, which carried several from the army post at New Castle.

The Judge Makes a Call

John R. Hill, former stenographer in the yards and docks office, was renewing his old acquaintances at the yard today. He left this station a few years ago to engage in government work at Honolulu. He has recently resigned to accept a position with the engineers department of the Travelers Fire Insurance Company of New York city.

Good Money for Week's Work Over $23,600 was distributed by the paying officials to the unclassified force at the yard on Friday.

Would Make a Good Man

The yard is in need of an athletic officer and many of the enlisted men are favoring the chaplain, Rev. L.
P. Rennolds for that position.

passing the summer at Bradford,
open their vaudeville season in Phil-

Really Sick.

"Husband, were you really visiting a friend last night?"
"I was."
"And was he really sick?"
"He was really sick, and it is no wonder. He never won a pot."—Wash-

EARLY MORNING TRAIN

Shall It Be Kept On All Year Round,
or Taken Off in Winter?

The matter of keeping on the early morning train from Boston to this city the year round is once more being talked among the travelling public. The railroad officials have in the past declared that it does not pay as far as passenger service is concerned.

While this may be so, there seems to be no reason why this train, carrying Boston papers, express and mail, cannot be made to pay with the passenger service that may develop between Newburyport and Portsmouth. This train, due here shortly after 8 a. m. in summer, completes its run at Newburyport on the winter schedule.

Piano Truth

In buying a piano it is better to be sure of quality rather than the price.

Price is something that takes care of itself, naturally.
If you get a Quality Piano, you cannot make a mistake at any rate.

Packard Pianos

are Quality Pianos every time. They are manufactured regardless of what the selling price will be. Therefore the intrinsic value of the Packard is superior to most pianos.
